Dear Allen,

Leila and I shall be in Cambridge, Mass. for a year or two, as Harvard has invited me to join the staff in connection with some foreign policy problems that interest them.

We shall be in Washington from the morning of Monday September 8th until Wednesday evening.

I hope you will have a few minutes during that time for an exchange of ideas from me to you -- which is the only way ideas are ever exchanged with men in your trade.

We shall be at the Shoreham.

Leila joins me in regards to you and Clover.

As ever,

Max
